Wrenbury Weekly...

Sunshine, World Book Day, pancakes, class assembly, tree planting, frog catching and even a visit from Mrs Cador! What a week at Wrenbury! The week began with our World Book Day; pyjamas, character hunts, a whole school book swap and of course, the reading of many stories! There was a real buzz around school while the children all enjoyed the activities. After this came Pancake Day – yum! Many pancakes were made and even more were eaten. Our younger ones took the opportunity to use pancake flipping to develop gross motor skills – this looked like great fun!

During lunchtimes we have been watching the frogs in the pond and have the chance to take a closer look at frog spawn. Some of the children were very excited to carefully catch some frogs; they were amazed by the different sizes, colours and webbed feet of these croaking creatures.

Base 4 shared some of their writing in their oracy class assembly this week. Their writing was very impressive, they all created a great sense of character and setting in their work. It was lovely to see their proud faces as they shared their work with confidence. Little Wrens have been busy planting the trees they had from The Woodlandrust (The EYFS charity) with every child planting their own tree which we hope will be standing for decades to come.

Base 4: Jesse - for using all the scaffolds to support him in making his writing amazing
Base 5: Henry M for showing value with his number formation in maths.

Assembly focus

In assembly this week we reflected on our school rules. We were all very proud that Wrenbury children are; safe, ready and kind. We talked about all the ways that we show this in the classroom, at playtime and even when out and about outside of school. We all felt very proud to be part of Wrenbury School and we knew that the kindness we show makes a real difference and shows others that they matter.

A gardening gift...

Thank you to Hannah from the BioBloom team who have donated two large bags of BioBloom Soil Enricher which is a peat free, natural fertiliser, with a similar texture to compost. Gardening club will be using this throughout the year and we will also be adding this to our forest area to help the plants and seeds that we have been busy planting.

Thank you Hannah and the team!

A few dates for the diary:
