

Wrenbury Primary School Newsletter

26th September 2025

What a beautiful week this week has been. Cold, misty mornings and then soft autumn sunshine to brighten the day. How lucky we are! Base 3 really embraced this weather during their trip to Beeston Castle at the beginning of the week as they deepened their history learning. The children scaled the grounds of this famous Iron Age hill and explored the Bronze Age roundhouse with its many resources and artefacts. From real animal skins to flint and stone tools, they saw, touched and tested it all! It is wonderful to have this special place on our doorstep.

Base 3 weren't the only class loving the outdoors, as usual our Little Wrens and Reception class enjoyed their Welly Wednesday. This is always a day that children (and teachers) look forward to! Base 1 also received another mystery reader, Freya's mummy, who read 'The Singing Mermaid' – what a lovely story. Base 2 have been busy learning about cavaliers and roundheads- creating some lovely pieces of work for their Learning Journey books. They have also created some artwork ready to share at our harvest festival.

The year 4 children have been using clay in their science learning as they learnt about teeth while the Year 5's have been learning about electricity. The children really embraced these hands-on activities.

Base 5 enjoyed their theme day today – watch out, we had Henry 8th, Anne Boleyn and many other members of the Tudor court in school! They had a great day, and all left with lovely pomanders.

We then talked about our harvest collection for the charity. 'Chance Changing Lives'. We talked about what foods the charity would like. We would really appreciate any donations –please put any donations in the green crates in the reception area. Thank you.

School Council & Friendship Buddies

A little request...

Our school council and friendship buddies are asking for any old, clean jam jars to help them with a little something special they plan to do next week. If you have any spare, could you please give them to the office or your child's class teacher by Tuesday? Thank you!

Online Safety

Thank you to those parents who attended the Online Safety information evening by DC Andy. In today's times it is essential that parents know the risks that smart phones and modern technology hold for our children. We will be holding another session later in year and do expect all parents to attend.

There were a few key tips that I would like to share with you. Firstly, a website : Keep Children Safe Online: Information, advice, support - Internet Matters This website helps parents keep safe online, showing you which settings are needed for different websites/ apps as well as giving lots of handy hints and tips to help you navigate the digital world that our children are in.

DC Andy also recommended the installation of an app called 'ReThink' ReThink - Before the Damage is Done which supports children, when needed, to re-think about the content of their messages before they send them. When this app is used, 98% of users changed their messages when they reminded about being kind online.
