

Wrenbury Primary School Newsletter

6th March 2026

Our whole school has had a wonderfully busy, enjoyable time over the past week. World Book Day was a particular highlight, with children and staff arriving in a fantastic array of costumes inspired by their favourite stories. The day was filled with shared reading, lively storytelling sessions, and lots of excitement as pupils took part in our World Book Day competition. Every child received a book voucher as well—we hope they enjoy choosing a new story to dive into and continue to build their love of reading.

In addition to our book-themed fun, our younger children also celebrated St David's Day with enthusiasm and pride, taking time to learn about Welsh heritage and traditions. Classes were delighted to welcome mystery readers, adding an extra layer of magic and surprise to the week. Children also took part in safer internet lessons, helping them build essential skills for staying confident and responsible online. To top it all off, we were incredibly proud of a wonderful fundraising event—planned and run entirely by some of our amazing pupils—showcasing their creativity, teamwork, and kindness. Oh, and how could we forget – we well and truly welcomed some lovely sunshine! Let's hope we see more of it and we continue into the spring term.

World Book Day

We celebrated World Book Day this week and the children looked fantastic!! We had all sorts of characters from a wide range of books including Harry Potter, Matilda, Harry and his Bucket of Dinosaurs and so many more. This year's theme for World Book Day was Go All In to encourage children to explore their passions through reading. Reading doesn't just have to be a story book!! Everyone has also entered a competition to have their designs printed onto book gift cards. We will send off the entries and keep our fingers crossed.

Reading opens so many doors for children – please do enjoy time together reading!

This week, 115 children achieved their 100% attendance award sticker- well done!

Assemblies:

This week in assembly, the children spent time learning about internet safety and how to use artificial intelligence (AI) responsibly. As technology continues to play a bigger role in our lives, it is important that pupils understand how to stay safe, think critically, and use digital tools in a sensible way.

Congratulations!

We want to congratulate Miss Phillips and her fiancé on the lovely news that she is expecting a baby in the summer! We are all very excited to welcome a new little member of the Wrenbury family!
