Wrenbury Weekly...

'They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:

Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.

At the going down of the sun and in the morning

We will remember them.'

This week began with remembrance. 'A Sense of Place, A Sense of Belonging' is so important to us at Wrenbury and remembrance is a chance to remember those who did so much for us, especially those who also once sat in our school hall, in our classrooms, walked our school corridors. We read part of the poem 'For the Fallen' by Laurence Binyon and read the names of the local men who gave their lives for us. Our 'roll of honour' book is a very special book to us and sits in pride of place in our entrance inside school.

 ANTI-BULLYING ALLIANCE

We have all focused on Anti-Bullying with week, with each class carrying out different activities to learn more about this. On Monday we had a friendly football match with Sound Primary- it was lovely to see great team work and sportsmanship on the pitch. On Tuesday we wore odd socks to help us remember we are all different and that difference is good. This week has also seen our Y6 school council working with PC Sharon and PC Jasmine. They have been busy carrying out speed enforcement checks. If anyone was driving too fast, they has questions to ask them to help them consider the possible implications of speeding. Our EYFS children enjoyed the outdoors on their Wellie Wednesday and carried out a litter pick – well done everyone. Base 5 have been busy learning key skills in art, geography and history to create a topographical map as part of their focus on World War Two. Base 2 have had great fun breaking the rules on Friday – raising money for their class charity. Well done to all – you looked fabulous and your generous donations will support a very worthy cause. You raised enough money to sponsor your turtle- well done everyone!

In assembly this week we continued to focus on anti-bullying week and read the story 'My Friend the Weather Monster'. This made us think about the importance of being kind- one of our school rules. We thought about what this looked like not only in our school but also at the park, at home and in new places. We all agreed that Wrenbury children are kind, they say kind things and they do kind deeds because 'We all matter'.

Reading Badge Awards

Another week means that we have even more children achieving their bronze reading badge. Well done everyone, you should be very proud of yourselves. This week Fraser, Skyler-Jean, Anna, Ellie, Alice, Edward, Zach, Cleo, Tori-Ann, William, Henry and Esme were awarded their bronze badge. It is wonderful to see you wearing your badges with such pride.

It's that time of year again! Our Christmas Fair will be held at school on Friday 6th December. It will be filled with games, stalls, music and refreshments. Please do come down, support school and enjoy a festive evening with us.

If anyone would like to help out, please do let the office or a member of the FOWS team know. Thank you.

Please keep up to date with all things Wrenbury by following the school Facebook page and checking in on our website for news and updates.
